

A 10x10 grid representing a heatmap of a 2D function. The grid is composed of colored squares: yellow (top-left), light green (top-right and middle), teal (middle-left and bottom-right), and dark purple (bottom-left). The colors represent different values or regions of the function.

