

A 10x10 grid heatmap showing the distribution of 'number' values. The color scale ranges from dark purple (low values) to yellow (high values). The highest values (yellow) are concentrated in the top-left corner, while the lowest values (dark purple) are concentrated in the bottom-right corner.

