

The heatmap displays the distribution of 'number' values across a 10x10 grid. The color scale ranges from dark purple (low values) to yellow (high values). The highest values (yellow) are concentrated in the top-left quadrant, while the lowest values (dark purple) are concentrated in the bottom-right quadrant.

